

Blue - When are online course evaluations available to students

For Fall and Spring semesters, course evaluations, for most colleges, open 3 weeks prior to the last day of finals. Some colleges and campuses make minor adjustments to this schedule. For interim courses, course evaluations start 1 week to 2 weeks prior to the last day of the course - depending on the length of the course.

Students receive an email invitation the day evaluations open, and two email reminders if they have not completed the survey.